FAIR TONIGHT AND COOLER.

VOL. CXXXIII—No. 235. ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, MONDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1917. PRICE ONE CENT.

"PREACHER" IN THE NET

"Rev." Jacob Jones Taken in Custody With Eight Pints of Stimulants in His Possession.

Two men—one white and the other colored—were before the Police Court this morning to answer the charge of violating the Mapp law by bringing an unlawful quantity of liquor in the state.

John T. Burns, a young white man, was on his way to Richmond Saturday afternoon with a suit case which contained five and a half pints of whisky. As was stated in the Gazette, Burns became disorderly after having been placed under arrest. This morning when made to face the bar he urged the stereotyped plea than only a part of the liquor belonged to him.

Jacob Jones, colored, had eight pints of liquor upon him when arrested. He claims to be an itinerant preacher, and alleged in his defense that he procured the liquor in Washington for his personal use, and had no intention of violating the law. He was held for the action of the grand jury.

The police assert that Jones is a regular "bootlegger" but that this is the first time that they have been able to get the evidence on him. They say he made regular trips to Washington and frequently left the cars at different points along the route in order to baffle the police.

Jones said last night that he purchased the liquor for his own personal use, and added "I am for justice, truth and love for all mankind." He quoted St. Paul saying "Drink a little for thy stomach's sake," and added he was going to carry out this injunction.

According to the police, Jacob frequently carried a basket in order to bring along his liquor, and on other occasions he simply wrapped it in a piece of cloth used for ticking.

OPPOSED TO INQUIRY

Congressman Montague Says Public Sentiment Against Probe.

Richmond, Oct. 1.—"Sentiment, so far as I have been able to gauge it" said Congressman Andrew Jackson Montague, who was in Richmond Saturday, "is against any investigation by congress at this time of the Heflin charges. The matter is already under investigation by the department of justice, and that investigation will produce results, unless there is a departure from its usual procedure. There is, in my judgment, the best of reasons for not having any investigation at the hands of congress.

Official of the department of justice hav been handling the matter. The officers know what they are doing, and I am confident that when that work is completed there will be disclosed all the facts in connection with the alleged use of money and the promotion of German propaganda. As to the report that Republicans were contemplating introducing a resolution asking for the expulsion of Mr. Heflin I know nothing. I had heard a whisper to that effect. I hardly think that it is being seriously considered, however. It is more of a lobby rumor than anything else so far as I can ascertain."

FUNERAL HAD TO CUT WALL.

Neighbor Refused it Permission to Cross His Premises.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 1.—Because her neighbor, Adam Geisler, refused to permit a casket, containing the body of her mother, to be carried across his property, Mrs. Katherine Bertges proprietress of a store on Concord avenue, was forced to employ workmen to tear down a portion of a brick wall before the funeral could go on, she told the police, while making inquiry as to whether she could take action against her neighbor.

COLLATERAL FORFEITED

Three Alleged Vagrants Fail to Appear in the Police Court This Morning and Answer Charges Against Them.

The police yesterday arrested a young white woman and two white men on the charge of vagrancy. The woman was arrested a week or ten days ago on the charge of acting suspiciously on the streets at night. The trio left $5 each for their appearance in the Police Court this morning, but were non est inventus when their names were called and forfeited their collateral.

Louisa Morris and Minnie Smith, young colored women, were arrested yesterday for disorderly conduct. The Smith woman left $10 collateral for her appearance, but failed to show herself when her name was called. Her deposit was declared forfeited. The evidence of the officers who made the arrest was to the effect that Louisa Morris attempted to strike one of them with a ginger ale bottle. She was fined $20.

Andrew Jackson, colored, had been arrested for disorderly conduct, and liberated upon leaving $5 collateral. He again went on the war path, and cut at Officer Zell with a knife when he went to arrest him. He was fined $20.

Frank Brooks, colored, was charged with assaulting his wife. He was fined $10.

Jos. Brown, and John Gilmartin and Al. Lee had been arrested for drunkenness. They left collateral, but forfeited the same by failing to appear.

Bert Brown, a 19 year old colored youth, had been arrested for breaking into a house on west Wolfe street a week ago last night and discharging a pistol twice after he had gained entrance. From the evidence this morning, it seems Brown had been forbidden to come to the house where a ycung colored woman resides. After having been denied admission he broke in the door and discharged the pistol twice. He was sent to jail for thirty days.

HUN'S DENOUNCED.

Roosevelt Says a Man in Germany Acting Like La Follette Would be Put to Digging Trenches.

Johnstown, Pa., Oct. 1.—"Shadow Huns,"men who sit in our national Legislature and serve the Kaiser" and "the Huns within our gates" received another denunciation yesterday form former President Theodore Roosevelt in a naddress here at the workingmen's Red Cross Sunday celebration. Departing from his set address, Colonel Roosevelt brought to the several thousand workingmen in his audience the need of true Americanism and the duty developing upon every citizen of the United States in standing behind the young men who have enlisted or have been made parts of the National Army for the purpose of "cutting the German cancer clean out of the world body."

Reviewing the remarks attributed to Senator La Follette in some of the Senator's recent addresses, Mr. Roosevelt declared:

"You don't find any shadow Huns in Germany. If in Germany any man acted as La Follette in this country, they would put him to digging trenches. I would send him as a gift to the Kaiser. Let the shadow Huns go back to their country."

"Until the German cancer is taken out of the world body," said Mr. Rocsevelt, "this great war for the victorious peace of justice must go on. Germany has reduced savagery to a science.

"There are official records of more than 10,000 separate atrocities committed by the German armies, not sporadically, but as a part of the deliberate plan of "schrecklichkeit," of horror. upon which the German government has counted."

BEST U-BOAT WEAPON.

American Destroyer Said to be Most Effective in Curtailing Peril.

Newport News, Oct. 1.—American torpedo boat destroyers have done more to curtail the activities of German submarines near the British coast than the combined anti-submarine forces of France and England, according to the master of a steamer which recently returned from the other side. Both the British and the French have paid high tributes to the American naval forces now in European waters, the captain says.

The American fleet has been operating mainly off the coast of Ireland. It was at this point that the German U-boats formerly got in their heaviest blows against allied shipping. The accuracy with which the American gunners shoot makes it almost sure destruction for a submarine to show so much as its periscope within range of one of the fast little American craft.

The arming of all merchantmen also has been a big factor in keeping submarines at a distance, the ship captain says. The guns on the merchant ships are manned by the best naval gunners of America, England and France, and the U-boat commanders have a high regard for their marksmanship.

Secretary of War Baker today authorized the Times to deny an article published this morning which said that Mr. Baker is "practically an avowed candidate for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency in 1920." Secretary Baker said: "I have no present or prospective interest in the subject."

LEAST FOURTEEN DEAD.

Property Damage of Inland by Hurricane Apparently Greater Than at First Supposed.

New Orleans Oct. 1.—At least fourteen persons lost their lives in the hurricane which swept the East Gulf Coast Friday, and property damage inland apparently was greater than first supposed. Some of the storm stricken area, notably Pensacola, Fla., still was cut off from wire communication last night, and no report has been received as to casualties or porperty loss.

Nine fishermen were drowned in Sister Lake, near Houma, La., by the capsizing of a shrimp schooner, while Crest View, Fla., reported that five persons had been killed there.

As the storm swept inland over Southern Alabama and Florida, it did considerable damage to crops. It apparently had diminished greatly Saturday and had passed out over the South Atlantic Coast.

WIN THE SECOND GAME

Virginia Grays Carry off Honors in City Championship Series of Base Ball.

The fast little Virginia Grays Athletic Club pulled through with the big end of an exciting game against the strong Cardinal Athletic Club Sunday by the score of 11 to 5. The game was full of brilliant plays made by both teams.

The interesting features of the game were the classy pitching of "Doc" Ayres for the Grays, who only allowed the Cardinals a couple of safe hits, and the hitting of the game by the Grays, "Doc" coming through with a home run and Dawson with a three-bagger, both when things were looking serious for their team. A triple play was another event that caused quite exciting times. The Cardinals must be given credit also for good playing.

FREIGHTER SINKS U-BOAT.

Battle Occurs 100 Miles off Coast of France Eight Days Ago.

An Atlantic Port, Oct. 1.—The sinking of a large German submarine in a battle with a British freight steamship was reported on the arrival of the steamship here yesterday. The battle occurred 100 miles off the coast of France eight days ago.

Two shells screaming above the deck of the freighter brought the first warning of the presence of the submarine which was perceived in the dim light of early morning lying awash to starboard. The naval gun crew on the steamer immediately returned the fire, while the captain maneuvered his ship so that the undersea boat could not bring her torpedo tubes to bear.

The submarine's gunnery was poor. most of her shots going far over the steamship. After twenty minutes of firing, the British gunners scored a hit, but the damage was not serious, as the submarine continued in action. The aim of her guns improved as the battle progressed, and some shell fell into the sea very close to the freighter. Finally a shot from the British vessel struck its mark, and the U-boat disappeared.

Officers of the frieghter said the submarine was one of the latest type and that her guns were of large caliber. Her designating number was hidden from view.

Marguerite Clark Tonight.

Barbara Archibald is a very attractive boarding-school girl who, at the opening of the story of "Bab's Diary" at the Richmond tonight has returned from school for the Christmas holidays. Her elder sister, Leila, is a "debutante" and the family expects to marry her off before Bab becomes a young lady.

The girl resents thus being forced into the background in favor of her sister and hurls an unthinking remark at her astonished mother to the effect that she is thinking of getting married and "ending it all." The family holds a council over this and Bab is secretly amazed at the effect of her remark. They try coaxing, threats and bribes but all this only strengthens Bab in her mischievous purpose to "give them something to worry about."

STUDENT ELECTROCUTED

Williamstown Youth Meets Death Trying to Adjust Lights.

Buckhannon, W. Va., Oct. 1.—Chester Collins, 20 years old, a freshman at West Virginia Wesleyan College, Buckhannon, and whose home was at Williamstown, near Parkersburg, was electrocuted at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Martha Frum, College avenue, Buckhannon, Friday evening.

He had gone to the basement to adjust the electric lights, which were flickering. A strong current is carried by the wire and as the basement is damp, it is thought death was almost instantaneous. Collins was the son of a prominent oil and gas man of Williamstown.

The geenral strike still ties up all business in Buenos Aires. The railroads admit their inabilty to settle the dispute wth their employes.

COAL PRICES ARE FIXED

Fuel Administration Puts Limit to Price Which May be Charged Retailers.

Dr. H. A. Garfield, Fuel Administrator, with the authority of the President, last night fixed the margin at which coal shall be retailed throughout the United States, and accompanied this with orders allowing an increase in the mine prices of certain district, in one instance, and lowering the price of anthracite pea coal in the other.

This is by far the most important action taken by the Fuel Administration since its creation by the President. The President himself had fixed the mine prices of all the coal produced in the United States and had allowed the jobbers a margin of 15 cents a ton.

Last night's order completes the fuel control process by carrying it straight to the consumer. It means that coal is now under Federal authority from the time it is mined until it is delivered by the retailers.

The orders issued provide:

First—That the retaller may charge 30 per cent, more margin for the coal he sells this year than average gross margin received by him on his sales in 1915.

Second—That the retaller not in business in 1915 may charge the prevailing market prices pending an investigation of his business by the Fuel Administration.

Third—that anthracite pea coal shall be sold at the mines at $3.40 a ton for white ash, $3.50 for red ash and $3.75 for Lykens Valley.

Fourth—That increases in the mine prices in the various districts shall be increased by sums ranging from 25 to 50 cents a ton.

STUTTGART BOMBARDED.

Flyers Penetrate 132 Miles Into Foe's Territory on Reprisal Paid to Avenge Bombing of Bar-le-Duc.

Paris, Oct. 1.—French airmen successfully bombed the German city of Stuttgart, it was officially announced today.

The raid occurred Saturday evening. It was in reprisal for German bombardments around Bar-le-Duc.

Stuttgart is the capital of the kingdom of Murtemburg and is located ninety miles west of Munich. It is at least 132 miles from the nearest part of the French battle line, in the Vosges.

The city is one of the most picturesque of the German towns and contains some ancient buildings.

London, Oct. 1. —Vigorous demand for more defenses was the aftermath in the London press of last night's air raid over London—the fifth in a week.

Eleven persons were killed and eighty-two injured in Saturday night's raid, and there were probably some casualties in that of last night. but none had been officially announced early today.

The general demand for more anti aircraft guns was coupled with agitation for a complete system of warning signals. The public accepts the air raids as inevitable and likely to occur every moonlight night, but there is considerable dissatisfaction over the inability of British defenses completely to push back" the baby killers."

Editorials today demanded the British airmen fly over the continent, retaliate on Germany by raids over Germany.

The United States battleship which went ashore in home waters Friday has been refloated the Navy Department, through the Committee on Public Information announced today. No details whatever are made public.

HORRORS OF PRESENT WAR.

Not a young girl in Belgium above seventeen years old has escaped misuse by German authorities, according to Baron Van Der Noot De Moorsel in a report to the Red Cross. Not a young girl in Belgium above seventeen years of age has not been taken and missed by the German authorities.

The slaughter with axes of all the Armenian, faculty members of Anatolia College, Marsovan, Northern Asia Minor, together with 1,200 others by Turkish peasants, whose pay for the work was the privlege of stripping the clothing off their victims' bodies, was described in New York Saturday by the Rev. George E. White, president of the college recently returned to this country. The massacres were committed at night by order of the Turkish government, he said, the Armenians being sent out in lots of 100 or 200 to their doom and their bodies rolled into prepared burial trenches. "One group of our college boys asked permisson to sing before they died, and they sang 'Nearer My God to Thee,' then they were struck down. White said.

"Girls and young women were snatched away at every turn on the journey. They sold at Marsovan for $2 to $4 each. I was able to ransom three girls at the price of $4.40. "The misery, the agony, the suffering were ebyond power of words to express—almost beyond the power of hearts to conceive. In bereavement, thirst, hunger, loneliness hopelessness the groups were swept in and along roads which had no destination."

Tell it not in Gath that brutalities described above are being committed in the twentieth century. In 1876, when the Turks ran amuck in Salonik and brought on war between Russia and the Moslem Empire, the mistreatment of females by the Turks horrifed the civilized world. Turkey is now an ally of Germany, and the Kaiser canont afford to bridle his confederate; hence scenes similar to those described above.

Such brutalites are often referred to in ancient history. The shrieks of violated innocence were common in ancient days when a city was captured. It was hoped, however, a few years ago that such horrors were to remain things of the past. But the invaders of unhappy Belgium seem to have revived brutalities of old. We could expect nothing better of its degenerate ally—Turkey.

TAKING OVER SHIPS.

By the middle of next month the United States will have taken over all ships above twenty-five hundred tons burden. It has announced the rates it will pay to shipowners. These valuations, on account of the prevailing war conditions, are much above the normal; and yet they are valuations that are fair to the owners of the craft. With the ownership of the ocean carriers the United States will be in positon to act in concert with the other powers for the reduction of the exorbitant freight charges. And thus will be found much justification for the prices paid for the ships themselves.

The requistioned ships will be operated by the government in agreement with the Allies, so as to make every cargo count to the best advantage.

As a contemporary says, the internationalizing of the shipping interests of the Ally world thus effected in an astonishing phase of the advances made in interaction between the powers represented in the Ally group. This shows that the economic basis of the nations for the future will be worked out in the actual practices followed during the war.

It would be difficult to see where Germany may count upon economic freedom following the close of the war, with such a coalition of the maritime powers, forced into concurrent action by it and grown accustomed to such concerted enterprise. As a war measure strictly the taking over of the ships indicates the centering of the thought of the nations upon the problem of supplies, in which the German submarine feature so strongly.

CURTAIN FALLS AGAIN.

The last peace balloon of the Kaiser had been gilded and burnished, apparently put forth as a feeler, that "Germany is prepared to withdraw from Belgium." But before the ink is dry, before the entente peoples have had time to react to it, the German chancellor stumbles into the scene with a bludgeon and kills the whole thing—apparently an unrehearsed part of the performance. And with this premature climax the curtain drops with a bang on the peace drive for the time being, although there will be silly attempts to revive the performance.

The Richmond Journal asks, is Michaelis cowering before the pan-Germans, before Von Tirpitz and Reventlow? He knows the "amiable philosopher, Bethmann," was laid low by this precious crew. Has he definitely determined to hitch his fortunes to their chariot, and to drift away from the liberal forces in the Reichstag and throughout Germany, whom the imperialists thought he might placate? Of course, even in Germany he is recognized merely as a makeshift and a stop-gap, to be displaced when there is real work for the chancellor to do. It was to be expected that the Junkers would put a ring through his nose. But it was though they would be more discreet, more clever, about the business.

HOLLAND AND GERMANY.

Facts From America Said to be Furnished Kaiser's Government.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Evidence that fats and other imports from the United States are being smuggled into Germany on a much larger scale than has been even intimated before has been brought to light. As a result it was stated authoritatively that the ban on exports to Holland and other northern neutrals would be drawn even more tightly than in the past.

The attitude of the Unted States will be that she cannot afford to have her supplies find their way into Germany to bolster up the strength of the soldiers who shortly will be face to face with American troops on the western front. The plea of Holland and other neutrals that they cannot exist without American exports will be disregarded entirely unless ironclad assurances are given that Germany will not profit in any way thereby.

Not only is it extremely unlikely that further supplies of foodstuffs and fats will be allowed to reach Holland, but the ban will not be lifted on fodder and cattle feed. By this latter step Holland will be forced to slaughter a large percentage of her herds and her supplies of fats to Germany necessarily will fall off.

Aside from knowledge of the agreement existing between Holland and Germany for the exchange of fats for coal this government recently has received information that Germany shortly intends to increase her bread rations. This can only be done through smuggling of supplies from neutral countries and opening up of the stores in Russia and Roumania. It is not believed the grain that can be gotten from these latter two countries would justify increasing the rations if the smuggling of supplies from neutrals were cut off. And this is what the United States aims to do.

How Long Will the Nuisance be Permitted?

Editor Gazette:

But for the prompt action of the fire department yesterday afternoon serious damage might have been done to property at the head of King street from the fire which occurred on the dump at that point, and in view of the fact, residents of the city are asking how long the City Council proposes to allow the nuisance to remain there.

It is a shame and disgrace to the entire city, as well as to the party who owns the ground. Every stranger who visits the city from Washington by way of the street railway, must, it seems, be greeted with a view of a dirty, filthy-looking dumping ground, located at the head of its main street. If it is necessary that public assistance be contributed in order that the ground may be filled up so as to make it saleable it would be far better for the city to furnish the money, buy good dirt and get the job done, than to allow it to linger along as a disgrace and meance from fire, as well.

INTRIGUE IN COSTA RICA.

German Subjects Arrested There for Trying to Overthrow Government.

The latest evidence of Germans political intrigue in Latin America is reported from Costa Rica. It appears that on September 17 a few of the leading German subjects resident in San Jose were arrested, charged, together with a number of natives, with conspiring to overthrow the present Government, and further that all German subjects in the ports of the country have been interned as a matter of precaution.

And what of the commercial prestige which may be diminished as a consequence of the resentment growing out of this incident? With the possible exception of the southern part of Brazil there is no part of Latin America in which German commercial influnece has attained a greater ascendancy than in Costa Rica. While the banana lands of the country have been developed and its railroads built and operated by an American company, and while English influence has been strong in the banking and general exporting and importing circles, yet in coffee raising and in the retail business German capital and German merchants have assumed a dominating position. The commanding influence of Germans in these lines has been in the main the result of German commercial enterprise, and whether the methods have always been along legitimate and fair lines is another matter.

The conspiracy which has just been uncovered in Costa Rica may not have been engineered by the Germans placed under arrest; it may be and more probably is true that they merely threw themselves into a native demonstration against the present Government. Whatever may be the merits of this possibility, the incident does emphasize the seeming inability of the average German subject located permanently or otherwise in Latin America to keep his hands off the political affairs of the country in which he is resident, if by such interference he believes he may directly promote the foreign policy of his own country, or indirectly further its purposes as he understands them.

ATTEMPTS TO DAMAGE SHIP

Wrench Damages Gear of Seized Liner; Mechanic is Held.

An Atlantic Port. Oct. 1.—Efforts to wreck the machinery of a United States transport were discovered today when the engines were started. Two mechanics were arrested. One was liberated after being questioned, but the other was held for the Federal authorities.

The vessels, which was one of the big Atlantic steamships seized from the Hamburg-American Line, had been undergoing extensive alterations to be used as a transport for American troops.

All the world was finished today, and orders were given to start the engines for a trial.

There was hammering and crashing in the engine room when the steam was turned on. The power was cut off quickly and all workmen detailed for investigation. Navy engineers soon found that a large steel monkey wrench had been dropped into the cog wheels of the steam stering gear. The steam had been shut off before extensive damage was done.

STRIKERS AGREE ON TERMS

Boilermakers Join In Decision to Resume Work Today.

San Francisco. Oct. 1.—The boilermakers' union, which had blocked the settlement of a strike of 30,000 metal trades workers, decided yesterday to accept the terms of a temporary agreement ratified by allied unions, and complete resumption today of work on government shipbuilding contracts here.

The decision to return to work was reached after officials of the Iron Trades Council had addressed the boilermakers, appealing to their patriotism.

Work on $150,000,000 government shipbuilding contracts in San Francisco and the bay region has been paralyzed for the last two weeks by the strike.

Reports from Seattle, Wash., and Portland. Oreg., where shipbuilding operations also are tied up by strikes stated that the situation was unchanged.

TROUBLE IN KENTUCKY.

More Than Twenty Men Killed in Mine Strike Troubles.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 1.— Labor, backed, it is said, by the subtle hand of the Teuton, has practically declared civil war on the authorities in Harlan County. In the past three weeks more than twenty men have killed as a result of the mine strike troubles and many have been injured. Two have been slain in the last forty-eight hours.

Bands of armed strikers intimidate the nonunion men who have braved the wrath of the union men to work in the mines. Many of the men killed are nonunion. The condition has become so serious that county Judge Ward has offered $500 reward for the man responsible for the death of Lawrence Scott, the last man killed. Judge Ward led a posse into the mountains in search of the criminal last night.

RUSSIAN MOBS IN RIOT

Preparations For Arming Finns Nipped in Bud.

Petrograd, Octo. 1.—Disorders are reported at Tambov, 300 miles southeast of Moscow and at Kozlov in Crimea, where mobs led by former criminal exiles to Siberia burned and destroyed much grain and other property. The towns are under martial law and troops have been sent from Moscow.

Rioting also is reported in Turkestan, whither troops have been dispatched.

Many arrests have been made in Petrograd of Finnish agents, who were purchasing fire arms. Newspapers say the arrests revealed mysterious arrangements for the arming of Finland, and that some purchases were made openly in the streets and cafes, and even at arsenals.

Official announcement is made that the military counter espionage bureau made many arrests last Tuesday, particularly among foreigners suspected of participating in an espionage organization masqueraded as commercial bureau. An inquiry has been begun, but no details have been divulged.

ANOTHER AIR RAID.

London District Again Visited by German Planes.

London, Oct. 1.—The London district was again raided last night by German airmen. There is a circumstantial but unconfirmed report that one enemy machine was brought down.

While there was a bright moon there also was a slight mist and the raiders were invisible to persons in the streets, but from the sounds of the anti air craft guns in action the indications were that the raiders were moving over various quarters of the district.

Field Marshal Lord French reports that two groups of enemy machines followed by others flying singly, crossed the Kent and Essex coasts between 6.40 and 8 o'clock. They came toward London. About 10 penetrated the outer defenses, but only four or five got through to London itself.

Bombs were dropped in Kent, Essex and London. No details of the damage or casualties have yet been received.

BLIND MAN HANGS HIMSELF.

Aged Baltimorean, Despondent at Loss of Sight Found Dead by Son.

Baltimore, Oct. 1.—Dahgling from a strap attached to a bed post Herman D. Middendorf, 74 years old was found dead in the bedroom of his home, 1006 McDonogh street, shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning.

While other members of the family were at breakfast, they heard a thud, and George Middendorf, a son, went upstairs to investigate. He found his father dead at the foot of the bed hanging from a strap.

About two months ago Mr. Middendorf lost his sight and on several occasions had spoken of taking his life.

He is survived by his wife and five children.

GERMAN RAILROADS

Going to Pieces Mainly Through Lack of Repair Work.

Rapid disintegration of the German railroad systems, with consequent grave efforts upon military movements and the welfare of the civilian population is taking place, according to reliable information just obtained by the government authorities here.

It is to the effect that German railroads through lack of repair work and inability to maintain ordinary upkeep, are reaching a condition similar to that which seriously crippled France for a long time.

Germany's railroad lines are in such a condition that, if Russia had not become a negligible factor on the eastern front, Germany would be in a critical condition, from a military standpoint. A heavy Russian offensive, it is declared, would at this time be a tremendous menace to the Kaiser, but there is no hope of that from the standpoint of the allies.

WATSON'S "DISCIPLES" HELD.

Five Accused of Dynamiting Postoffice at Lowland, N. C.

Newburn, N. C., Oct. 1.—With the arrest of five "disciples of Tom Watson" all opposed to the army draft law, the authorities Saturday received word that other disciples of the publisher are planning armed resistances to the draft law and trouble is expected.

Kelly Watson, Mitchell Watson, Sam Williamson, Christopher Carroway and J. B. Watson, who were arrested Friday, are being held at the jail at Newbern in default of $2,000 bond each. Mitchell and J. W. Watson and Carroway are alleged to have dynamited the postoffice at Lowland on September 17 and to have planned to similarly destroy other government property.

Refugees from the Isle of Pines arriving in Havana report that a hurricane which swept the island practically destroyed the food supply of the island. The property damage is estimated at more than $2,000,000. A relief committee has issued an appeal to the Cuban and American governments for help for the homeless and destitute.

The little son of J. N. Harman, Jr., of Welch, W. Va., was attacked Tuesday night by a vicious rat. He was bitten fifteen times on one arm and a finger was badly lacerated by the rodent before his parents were aroused. For several days the life of the little fellow, who is little more than a year old, was despaired of, but the venom has yielded to antidotes.

HUNS STRIP FRENCH MILLS

Invaders Ship Equipment From Northern France Into Germany.

Washington, Oct. 1—The textile mills in Northern France are being stripped of their mechanical equipment by the Germans, or the equipment is being rendered unfit for further use. This information has reached the State Department from a source which is considered reliable by officials.

It is reported that in Roubaix and Turcoign, near Lille, looms are being removed from the mills and sent to Germany. Machines which cannot be removed are smashed and in some instances dynamite has been used in the work of industrial destruction. There have been similar occurrences at Courtrai.

Evidently the Germans mean to strip the industries of the country. All mills in Flanders, it is stated, have been ordered to furnish lists of the machinery, which indicates that the work of destruction now going on in Northern France will be carried on throughout Flanders.

The military authorities also have requisitioned the textile fabrics even in small retail shops, and the woolen blankets have been taken from private houses. Wine also has been requisitioned.

In the larger cities children from ten to fifteen years of age have arrived from Germany and have been put to work in offices. The number of women used for this purpose is increasing rapidly.

NAVY HARD HIT BY GALE

Damage Estimated at $100,000—City's Loss Not Serious.

Pensacola, Fla., was not greatly damaged by the West Indian hurricane, although a number of merchant vessels were driven ashore and the storm was of exceptional violence.

Damage to the navy yard is estimated at $100,000.

The electric railroad between the navy yard and the city of Pensacola was badly damaged and traffic over it will be delayed about a month. The damage to the seaplanes at the naval aeronautical training station was comparatively slight and it will be possible to continue flying this week. The entire roof of the general stores building was blown off.

Damage in the villages of Warrington and Woolsey was slight outside the complete destruction of the Episcopal Church and the practical demolition of the Y. M. C. A. building.

Houma, La, Oct.—Searching parties yesterday located Theogene Belegrin and eight other shrimp fishermen who were reported drowned in Sister Lake when the tropical hurricane struck that vicinity Friday. The men had their schooner safely anchored at a point along the Lafourche coast more than ten miles from where they were fishing when the wind started.

THE POPE AND PEACE.

Will Now Ask Allies to State Conditions, It is Said.

Paris, Oct. 1.—A dispatch to the Temps from Geneva says that Pope Benedict in transmitting to the entente allies the replies received from the central powers to his peace proposals, will set forth in an accompanying note the theory that Germany and Austria have accepted a basis of negotiations satisfactory to the allies, and will ask the allies to state their conditions.

Another Temps dispatch points out what the correspondent regards as fresh German maneuvers to create a division among the the entente allies. He quotes a person in the German diplomatic service as having stated recently:

"The war henceforth can lead to nothing but a triumph for Great Britain and its American and Japanese allies. The interest of France, if well understood, would be to exploit the need for peace which manifests itself in Germany. She would thus succeed in getting back part of Lorraine if not all of Alsace and Lorraine, providing Germany was allowed to round out her territories in the direction of Russia."

Germans Grow Fatter.

London, Oct. 1. — Paradoxical though it may sound, many Germans have been made fatter by semi-starvation.

War conditions are blamed for an outbreak of "oedema" (swelling) disease, unknown in peace times. Among the civil population, says the Lancet, it has affected generally the feet and legs, but in more than half the cases studied, some degree of facial swelling was present. Men were more affected than women, and young children hardly at all, the youngest certain case being 12 years old.

The condition may be taken as one of the signs of imperfect nutrition due to restricted diet.

DEVILTRIES OF I. W. W.

Speedy Trial of Offenders, According to Assistant Attorney General.

"The public has not even a faint conception of the deviltries these I. W. W. men have been guilty of," said Assistant Attorney General William C. Fitts, when he returned from Chicago yesterday. "The ordinary man cannot imagine the lengths to which they have gone to strike for their alleged cause while the country is at war. From the I. W. W. point of view, the war provides them with their glorious opportunity, and they have tried to make the most of it."

Assistant Attorney General Fitts intimated that the government is prepared to prove a general conspiracy by members of the I. W. W. to thwart the nation's war preparations. He added that the government is planning speedy trials for those arrested and is prepared with sufficient evidence to send the guilty ones to the penitentiaries.

An example of the good wages now bieng earned by central West Virginia coal miners is cited in the case of Robert Conaway, former well-known miner league baseball player, who is digging coal in the Winchester Coal Company's McIntire mine. on Mudlick run. One day recently "Bob," as he is familiarly known, loaded seventeen cars, for which he receive $21.25 as his wages for the day.

TO FLY ACROSS ATLANTIC.

Big Craft for Allies Being Built Here May Carry Freight.

Great DeGaeroplanes now being constructed in the United States for one of the allies are expected to make the flight across the Atlantic from this country at no distant day. This stateemnt made yesterday by Howard Coffin, of the aircraft production board, promises a feat the accomplishment of which will make the tales of Jules Verne seem prosaic.

Success in this project will undoubtedly suggest the development of an enormous fleet of aircraft for the transportation of freight. Equipped with engines capable of developing a speed of not less than 80 to 90 miles an hour, and built to carry several tons of fuel or freight, these machines may be able to make the flight from the United States to England in approximately 24 hours.

A dispatch from New York says aeroplanes are soon to cross the Atlantic Ocean.

The great Italian Caproni triplane probably will make the flight early next spring.

American manufacturers stand ready to make 1,000 battleplanes that will cross the Atlantic and then destroy the German fleet at Kiel before they have to be overhauled.

The demonstration of the Caproni triplane in this country, with the discovery by American scientists of a method of telling aerial direction by radio waves, makes the smashing of the kaiser's navy possible and probable.

These developments in the science of aerial navigation also guarantee to the allies an endless stream of American battleplanes to wreck the German artillery, blow up their munition depots, demoralize their transportation lines which feed the front and destroy their reserve bases.

The allies have said they could win the war quickly if they could have limitless battle planes. Getting the machines from the United States to France and England has been the obstacle to overcome.

VIRGINIA NEWS

J. C. Tyler, charged with killing R. C. Hatcher, at Hopewell on June 2, 1915, was acquitted Saturday by a jury in Circuit Court in Petersburg. Hatcher was a Du Pont police officer. After the alleged killing of the officer Tyler disappeared and was located aobut a month ago at an army post in Texas, having enlisted in the United States Army. He was brought back to Prince George by Sheriff W. E. Boisreau and Chief Reeves, of the Du Pont police force.

Patrick H. Wells, city treasurer of Hopewell, will have to spend thirty days in jail and pay a fine of $100 for violation of the liquor laws of the state. Wells was arrested several months ago and the jury gave him six months in jail and a fine of $100. The governor has deducted a part of the jail term, but ordered that the fine should be paid. Wells had a large amount of liquor in his possession at Hopewell, the officers raiding his quarters and bringing it to light.

Resignation of John Garland Pollard as attorney general is expected to be sent to Governor Stuart in the next few days. Mr. Pollard has been tendered a mission to France by the national war council. This mission will divert the coming into France of more than a million of American soldiers and will have charge of the social and religious work among the troops. In case Mr. Pollard resigns there is little question that John R. Saunders, of Middlesex, nominee for attorney general, would be chosen to fill the unexpired term. By a peculiar clause in the state constitution Mr. Pollard's interim successor would be selected by the state treasurer and the first and second auditors.

Rev. Albany Smith, better known as Gypsy Smith, Jr., has been secured by the pastor and stewards of Main street Methodist Church in Danville, to conduct a fortnight's revival, starting October 7. The evangelist, who recently concluded successful revivals at Washington, Charlottesville and Warrenton, was at Danville several years ago, when his father, Rev. Rodney Smith conducted a two weeks' series of serivces at the Ridge Street Tabernacle. Rev. Mr. Smith will bring with him a soloist from New York, also an accompanist.

Brigadier General John A. Lejeune has been appointed commandant of the marine corps cantonment at Quantico, where 6,000 men are receiving advanced training. He has been senior assistant to Major General Barnett, head of the marine corps, for nearly three years, and requected the transfer to service with the troops.

James Canter, 21 years old, was placed on trial at Abingdon today for the fifth time for the part he is alleged to have taken in the murder of Mrs. Maude Wilson, the young wife of James R. Wilson, a farmer. Mrs. Wilson was shot to death after being attacked while alone in her home on the Bristol-Abingdon pike, 3 miles east of Bristol. Her body lay for 24 hours before it was discovered, as her husband was away from home at the time. Luther Canter, after he and his brother, James were convicted at the first trial, in May, 1915, soon after the murder, confessed his guilt, but exonerated James, who was then under sentence to die. James Canter was granted a new trial. Three times since he has faced a jury, with the result always of a mistrial.

NEWS OF THE DAY

British casualties reported during the month of September total 104,598, divided as follows: Officers killed or died of wounds 636; men, 18,302. Officers wounded or missing, 2,151; men, 83,509.

Isaac Newton Seligman, internationally known banker, died in Mount Sinai Hospital in New York yesterday afternoon as the result of being thrown by his horse at Irvington, New York, yesterday morning. He sustained a fracture at the base of the skull.

A mob of 500 white men engaged in a riot in Philadelphia with a crowd of negroes almost as large yesterday over the alleged insults to white women by a negro barber. A number of the rioters were arrested. Many whites and blacks were more or less injured.

A mystifying fog fell between this continent and that of Europe last night when news communication was practically cut off, meager news of the war being received in Washington. Latest word received indicated that both Paris and London were in suspense and it is believed that the events which will ultimately bring the war to ally victory has come. Terrific drives have been anticipated on the Flanders' front and the strict censorship of dispatches from the battlefield doubtless presages crashing drives into the Hun lines which will effectively crumble the Kaiser's forces.

A large German submarine was sunk 150 miles off the coast of France eight days ago, according to a report received at An Atlantic port. The report was brought by the crew of the British freight steamship which sank the submersible. The two vessels shelled one another for twenty minutes before a well aimed shot from the Briton sent the enemy to the bottom.

Kneeling at the bedside of her sleeping husband, Mrs. Patrick Henry Riley shot him through the head at their home in Denver, Col. Riley died three hours later. Mrs. Riley surrendered to the police, declaring Riley had killed her mother by poisoning and had threatened her.

Several were killed yesterday in a battle between indicted union miners and posses sent out by the authorities at Louisville, Ky., to arrest them. The condition existing amounts practically to a state of civil war in the coal fields. The governor is expected to order troops to maintain order.

Peruvian troops Saturday took possession of eight German ships in Callao Bay following receipt of information by the government that they were preparing to escape.
